Hi Kari,

Below is a testimonial you are welcome to use:

Knowing the best ways to approach elder care issues in your family is a struggle many of our professionals face. Kari Berit was able to speak to us on a personal level, give us realistic advice, and help our people feel more prepared to balance these issues.

We would love to post a follow-up from you on our intranet and would be happy to include a link to your book as well. We have been exploring other topics in the realm of caregiving and it will likely be a full year's rotation before we cycle back to eldercare. We will definitely reach out again when we revisit the topic.

Thanks,
Sandy
